

Update on Demond & Lisa.

6/11/2021

Well, Demond is nearly finished with his first week of work at Braun...it's been a really long time coming and a really rough road to get here. With that said, God has been ever present through every cage, every screw, every rod, every stitch...you get the picture. We could feel every single prayer that we were the subject of and we cannot thank you, our brothers and sisters in Christ, enough. Many thanks, too, for every meal, every visit, phone call, or text, and thanks for the many gifts that you have poured into our family. It has been very humbling to see just how much "us Johnson's" are thought of in this body of Christ. Demond is feeling ok - very tired, but his pain level is a 1-Praise God and he continues to suffer from soreness and stiffness, which will take quite a while to fix. Again, we cannot thank you all enough for all you have provided these last 3 months.
